ADDITIONAL INFO

In between the cracks as time allows, we will visit open markets, cemeteries, churches, schools, and other points of historical interest to the group. We will also have time to interact with local villagers, enjoy various cultural interests, tourist attractions along the way, and see the country side. Much of rural Ukraine is still the way it was when our forefathers lived there -- people herding cows along the road, walking barefoot, driving with horse and wagon, though few German buildings remain. With some luck we might see one of the old wooden windmills that were so popular with the Germans.
